Governor Savage certainly has a rare quality of nerve to ask the people to endorse his administration.

Governor Savage is not likely to put Bartley back, but the republican convention will put the governor back—into private life.

The Germans now charge that England was anxious to intervene in the Spanish-American war but was prevented by the stand taken by Germany. The United States will soon be compelled to hire a detective to learn definitely who its friends really are.

The fusionists are still fearful that the contest between the Savage and anti-Savage factions will result in a terrible struggle in the republican party. Those opposed to the nomination of his excellency have figured it out that it would be better to have a "desperate struggle" in convention than that the fusionists should have a walk-away at the polls.

Governor Savage and his friends imagine that the fury of the storm is over and are sticking their heads out of the cyclone cellar with the belief that they were not even scared. A few months will develop that what they thought was a storm was merely a gentle breeze and when the "real thing" strikes they will wish that they had remained under cover.

Even defeated candidates for governor cannot afford to wreak personal vengeance on those who might be opposed to them. T. J. Phillips, democratic candidate for governor of Iowa, was fined $25 in district court at Ottumwa Thursday for kicking Editor Moore a few weeks ago for having printed unpleasant stories and sarcastic paragraphs. He pleaded guilty to the charge of assault.

Bixby expresses his sincere sympathy for the members of the democratic editorial association and acknowledges that "It must be embarrassing in the extreme, particularly to one not used to it, to be the champion of an organization whose political principles are like whole-sale quotations on dried mackerel, 'subject to change without notice.'" He confesses that the only hope of the democrat, until a rock can be found on which the party's foundation may rest, is to oppose anything and everything that the republican party may attempt to accomplish.

They don't stay with us very long—the boys and girls we mean—just a few years, first as household pets and treasures then for a little while as helpers and companions, and then they are gone like birds in the autumn days and father and mother once more sit down and talk of the girls and boys that are scattered and gone. Whether you and mother are left depends on how you treated the little folks during the days when they were with you. It is a sorry proposition when the only interest children have at home is the interest they have when the probate court divides the estate.—Ahlund Journal.

The people of Omaha are congratulating themselves over two recent moves of the railroads in this territory. The News of that city says: "Omaha is given a more exclusive hold on the trade through Nebraska by the latest move of the Union Pacific in withdrawing from the Sioux City trade. The city gains the inside track on all Nebraska territory west of Norfolk. By the extension of the Elkhorn road to Boyd county the territory from which Omaha has formerly been completely shut out is opened up and the first steps for the invasion of the Dakotas from an entirely new point are taken."

Philippine Funerals.

The Manila Times of December 25 relates a feat recently performed by three native scouts enlisted in our army who, fired by the fame of General Funston organized a little expedition of their own. They ascertained through friendly natives, that not far from their encampment in Laguna province, a company of insurgents were encamped and were recruiting their ranks. The three, a sergeant and two privates, concluded to pay them a visit. Exchanging their uniforms for ordinary native dress and concealing their revolvers under their clothing they proceeded to the camp and upon talking of enlisting were given a cordial reception.

But before they had been in camp many hours they perceived a coldness which could arise only from suspicion among the insurgents. However, they were assigned quarters for the night, and told that in the morning the commanding officer would consider the question of enlisting them. They slept, with one eye open, and soon heard the approach of a band to their sleeping chamber. When the Filipinos entered their room with drawn bolos, they had their revolvers at full cock and rushed upon them. After a smart fight in which none of the three got a scratch, they captured, disarmed and marched into their own camp sixteen of the enemy. This feat will probably encourage the little Kansas brigadier to think that he had apt scholars among his old native scouts who stood by him in danger and learned his ways.—State Journal.

EXPLOSION ADDS TO FIRE.

Several Chicago Firemen Injured While Fighting Flames.

Chicago, Feb. 7.—The "Varsity" flat building, situated at the southeast corner of Sixtieth street and Ellis avenue, was completely destroyed by fire last evening, entailing an aggregate loss of $160,000. The building was four stories high and contained 47 flats, all of which were occupied. All the tenants had ample time to escape, however, and no lives were lost. During the fire an explosion of gasoline in a grocery store located in the building hurled fireman James Tillman from the fire escape on the second story to the ground, breaking his thigh and injuring him internally. Robert Hartley, another fireman, was thrown from a window in the second story and his head badly cut. He was also badly burned by the explosion. Policeman John Cagle, who was in the grocery at the time of the explosion, was thrown down and badly burned about the face.

LET THE POWDER GET TOO HOT.

Two Men Killed and Several Injured by Explosion at Mouth of Mine.

Telluride, Colo., Feb. 7.—Two men are dead and four others seriously injured as the result of an explosion of powder in the powder house at the mouth of Japan tunnel. The dead: D. R. O'Connell and Alphonso Fiarata. Santino Marta, the powder thrower, will lose one and probably both eyes. Marta stepped out of the building for a moment and the powder, becoming heated, exploded, the concussion setting off the entire powder supply, amounting to several hundred pounds. About 400 yards distant was stored tons of dynamite. The door of the building was blown in, but the dynamite was undisturbed.

Eleven Die in Explosion.

Chicago, Feb. 7.—It is believed 11 is the correct number of people who lost their lives by the explosion of gas in the Trostel butcher shop at 376 Twenty-second street Wednesday night. The bodies, charred past human semblance in the majority of cases, lay at a nearby morgue, while firemen, assisted by laborers, still dug in the ruins on the bare possibility that more bodies might be under the debris. Fire Chief Musham declared his belief that the explosion was that of a pocket of gas.

Another Explosion in Park Avenue.

New York, Feb. 7.—An explosion of dynamite in the rapid transit subway in Park avenue, between Forty-first and Forty-second streets, yesterday, hurled a piece of rock weighing 80 pounds through the plate glass door of the Grand Union hotel and broke several windows in that establishment. Two persons were hurt by flying fragments.

DEBATE ON PHILIPPINES

Senate Hears Heated Discussion on Tariff Bill.

TO TAKE UP IRRIGATION BILL.

Senate Decides to Consider Measure After Philippine Tariff is Disposed Of—San Bias Route for Canal is Proposed by Scott.

Washington, Feb. 7.—For four hours yesterday the senate had the Philippine tariff bill under discussion. The measure was completed so far as the Philippine commission was concerned. Several other amendments will be offered. Toward the close of the day the discussion became hot. In response to a resolution offered several days ago by Rawlins (Utah), the secretary of war transmitted to the senate the session laws enacted by the Philippine commission. They were read in full, and immediately drew the fire of the opponents of the government's Philippine policy. Hoar expressed his astonishment that such laws should be enforced by the government authorities. Foraker (O.) had read from the revised statutes of the United States the laws of congress relating to the crime of treason and similar offenses against the government and said that the acts passed by the Philippine commission were almost identical in their language with the laws enacted by congress in the days of the fathers of the republic and that there was nothing unprecedented or unusual about them. The Ohio senator was interrupted continuously and had several warm colloquies with senators who were opposing him. In one of them, he announced with great earnestness that the American army never would return from the Philippines until it returned victorious and that gentlemen in and out of congress, rail about it as they might, ought to thoroughly understand that fact. In concluding the debate, Hoar poured oil on the troubled waters of the senate, maintaining that men might well differ on any of the great questions now before the country, but that all were thoroughly loyal to the country and were doing their duty as they saw it.

Early in the day Scott (W. Va.) delivered a speech in which he advocated an investigation of the San Bias route for an isthmian canal, and Hansbrough made a carefully prepared address on his bill to provide a national system of irrigation of arid lands.

At the conclusion of Hansbrough's speech the irrigation bill was ordered to be the unfinished business when the Philippine tariff bill is disposed of.

House Takes Up Appropriation Bill.

Washington, Feb. 7.—The house spent the day on the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill. Very rapid progress was made, 74 of the 130 pages of the bill being disposed of before adjournment. No debate of importance developed during the consideration of the bill and no amendments of importance were adopted.

PHILAN ON CHINESE QUESTION.

Former Mayor of San Francisco Talks for Exclusion to House Committee.

Washington, Feb. 7.—James D. Phelan, recently mayor of San Francisco and one of the California commissioners appointed by the governor to represent the state before committees of congress here, was a witness before the house committee on foreign affairs yesterday.

Referring to a statement by Minister Wu that "labor agitators" were behind the Chinese exclusion movement, Mr. Phelan declared the overwhelming sentiment on the Pacific coast was in favor of the exclusion movement.

On the other side, he said, were the Pacific Mail Steamship company, the Canadian railways, the Chinese diplomatic representatives, several retained attorneys and returned missionaries, who urged no public reason for the admission of the Chinese and who had finally agreed to the renewal of the Geary law for two years, when, it is stated, the treaty of 1894 will expire.

Mr. Hockens has commenced mining on a small scale and has taken out a ton and a half of gold bearing quartz. The vein was found near the surface and runs into the side of a hill.

Strawboard Makers Meet.

Students Return to Their Classes.

Derby, Feb. 7.—The trouble between the faculty and the students of the State School of Mines at Golden, which has caused the suspension of work in that institution for more than a week, has been settled temporarily at least. The board of trustees will take the whole matter out of the hands of the faculty, make a thorough investigation of the present and past troubles and decide the case on its merits. The students have agreed to return to their classes and abide by the decision of the board.

Brought Back for Murder.

Muscataine, Ia., Feb. 7.—"Kid" Noble, the murderer of Tom Morgan, is in the county jail in this city, having arrived in custody of Sheriff John Stuart and John Morgan, brother of the man who was murdered in this city on the night of Jan. 21.
